Independents Plan Fall Campaign For City Offices Here

Salem will have a three-party political campaign for city offices next fall as the result of an announcement by a group of Independents today that they would file their petitions with the Columbiana County Board of Elections before the Feb. 4 deadline.

The Independents, headed by Lloyd Gordon as candidate for mayor, are interested in a city manager type of government for Salem.

Mr. Gordon, owner of a water softening company and a former president of the Chamber of Commerce and Salem Civic Committee, will have the following running mates on the Independent ticket:

For president of city council — Curtis H. Vaughan.

For council — Dr. George F. Jones, Fred (Ike) Koenreich, Alroy Bloomberg and Jack Rance.

Mr. Vaughan, assistant vice president of the Electric Furnace Co., has been an advocate of the city manager plan for a number of years.

The Independents began circulating their petitions today to secure the 296 signatures which are needed to secure a place on the ballots next fall. Their names will not appear on the primary ballots May 3 when Republican and Democratic candidates are nominated.

Explain Platform

In announcing their decision to run on a non-partisan ticket, the Independents said their platform is two-fold: (1) Civic progress for Salem with a better, more efficient government conducted on sound business principles, and (2) to enlighten the people on the feasibility of a city manager form of government and present that issue to the voters for their action.

Mr. Gordon declared, "The City of Salem is a $50 million dollar corporation and should be handled in a competent, business-like manner. We are pledged, too, to make a systematic, concentrated effort to interest new industries and enterprises to settle in Salem."

No mayoralty candidates have announced yet on either the Republican or Democratic tickets for the primaries next May, but former mayor Harry M. Vincent has indicated that he would seek office again on the GOP ticket.

The only candidates filing to date are Mrs. Helen Coyne for city auditor and Atty. James Primm for solicitor.

Gen. M'Arthur Feted On 75th Birthday Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur prepared to receive new accolades from this city today, his 75th birthday.

Not even the season's heaviest fog could dim the enthusiasm of the welcome for the hero of the Pacific last night. A crowd of 1,500 waited two hours for his delayed arrival at Los Angeles International Airport. Many more cheering thousands lined the route to his hotel.

Today the general speaks at the unveiling of a bronze statue of himself in the first public showing of the monument in MacArthur Park.

At a luncheon given by the Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, he will receive an award of extraordinary merit from the Rt. Rev. Francis Eric Blot, bishop of the diocese. He is expected to make

U. N. Hopes Dim For Freeing Gls

Formosa Crisis Seen Blow To Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—This week's developments regarding Formosa have dealt a blow to hopes at the United Nations for the early release of 17 Americans held in Red China.

They also have lessened chances that the Security Council can act effectively to bring about a cease-fire order in the Formosa area, or that the 60-nation General Assembly might act in the dispute.

Officials Discouraged

This appraisal came today from fully informed quarters who, declining to be identified, made no secret of their discouragement. They said the tasks of obtaining release of the prisoners and of trying to get a cease-fire have been made more difficult by both the United States and Red China.

Stumbling blocks were mentioned as including President Eisenhower's message, congressional action, and Premier Chou En-lai's unyielding statement Monday in relation to Formosa.

Flew To Peiping

At the direction of the U.N. Assembly, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld flew to Peiping in an effort to obtain release of the Korean War prisoners. On his return he reported a successful first step toward freeing the men, all associated with U.S. armed services. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. delegate, expressed confidence they would be released.

As of today, however, the view here is that the situation has hardened considerably. Despite these doubts, New Zealand is reported preparing to bring the cease-fire question before the Security Council.

AP Photographer Noel Gets Medal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Associated Press photographer Frank (Pappy) Noel receives the Bronze Star today for bravery under fire and for standing up to the Communists during more than 32 months as a war prisoner in Korea.

Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas arranged to present the award in a Pentagon ceremony. Noel was cited for bravery on the night of Nov. 29-30, 1950, when the Marine Corps convoy in which he was riding during the fighting withdrawal from the Chosin Reservoir was attacked by the enemy.

The Navy citation said Noel "fearlessly exposed himself to intense enemy fire to remove wounded Marines to safe positions and to procure urgently needed ammunition."

After the photographer was captured, the Navy said, he displayed "indomitable courage and resourcefulness in maintaining a high state of morale among the prisoners and in indicating a proper mode of conduct for other captives in the face of the pressures exerted by the enemy to turn the prisoners against their countries."

William Stark Succeeds Aldom As Council Head

President Pro Tem,
3rd Ward Councilman
To Be Named Tuesday

Democrat William Stark became president of Council last night by the unanimous consent of the members following acceptance of the resignation submitted by James Aldom, former president.

Stark, a 37-year-old father of four children, relinquished his chair as Third Ward councilman and president pro tem to accept the post vacated by Aldom, who said an expansion and improvement program at his place of business, the Salem Diner, forced his action.

Motion Commends Aldom

Following the acceptance of Aldom's resignation and the elevation of Stark, Councilwoman Mary Brian introduced a motion commending Aldom for his work in the post he held since January, 1954.

In seconding the motion, Councilman Charles Edwards lauded the former Council President, saying, "Aldom had his heart and soul in the State St. and sewage projects, and now that they are out of the way, I reluctantly vote for his resignation."

The motion passed unanimously. In assuming his new duties, Stark expressed a hope for harmony among the Council members.

Legislative Committee Chairmen

As president of Council, Stark, assistant superintendent at the Salem China Co., also will be chairman of the Legislative Research Committee. However, he will give up the reins of the finance and annexation committees.

The new president said a president pro tem will be voted upon at the next Council meeting. Presumably, a new representative from the Third Ward to succeed Stark also will make his debut at the next session.

Since he undoubtedly will be a Democrat, the changes last night will not effect the Democratic 4-3 majority in the city's legislative body.

Dr. White Speaker Here On Thursday

Dr. Robert I. White, Jr., dean of the College of Education at Kent State University will speak at a general meeting Thursday at 8 p. m. under sponsorship of the Salem League of Women Voters in the public library.

An educator, Dr. White will discuss the results of a survey covering Ohio and various phases of education in the state including salaries and qualifications of teachers and training programs. The talk will be based on the results of his work as chairman of the Personnel and Teacher Education Study Committee of the Ohio School Survey.

The survey, one of the first comprehensive studies of the public school system since 1913, was authorized by the Ohio General Assembly.

E. S. Kerr, superintendent of schools, will introduce the speaker. Teachers, PTA members and all civic-minded persons are urged to attend.

FACES HEARING TODAY

Grading Begun For New Columbiana County Jail

$250,000 Structure
May Be Ready For Occupancy By Sept. 1

In the midst of a young blizzard a power shovel chewed into the frozen turf on North Market St., Lisbon, at noon Tuesday to begin grading on the site for the new Columbiana County jail.

County commissioners and officials watched as Albert Zigler of Gavers, county shovel operator, lowered the bucket and started the grading job preparatory to construction of the $250,000 prison.

"The job was begun earlier than originally planned to furnish fill dirt for road building, and we expect to save $2,500 - $3,000 on the cost of the jail," W. A. Hunston of East Palestine, commissioner president, declared.

Saving to be Effected

Some 1,500 cubic yards of the poorer soil will be hauled to the east side of the village where county crews are building a short road. The proximity of the county-owned soil to the project will mean a considerable saving, according to Charles Snyder, county engineer.

First to go in the excavation process will be the grey stone wall bordering on the north and east of the 120-by-180-foot lot. The huge, hand-hewn boulders were installed when the last county jail was erected in the Mexican War era. Condemned by many grand juries, the jail was finally razed in 1939, when it was declared a firetrap.

The stones will be saved and used as headwalls for culverts, Snyder said.

For Landscaping Use

The rich, black topsoil which has laid undisturbed under sod for many years, will be piled aside until time for landscaping the plot.

The north side of the lot will be cut down to street level and proposed terraces will reduce the slope on the N. Market St. side where the main entrance will be.

A large sugar maple growing on the spot where the 62 by 90-foot brick jail is to rise, will be uprooted. Two other trees of the same species will probably have to be torn out to make room for a driveway along the south border, Snyder said.

A concrete walk will lead into the basement entrance of the prison from High St., which borders the lot on the north.

To House 66 Prisoners

The jail, designed to house 66 prisoners, will be two-story, except the section under which the cellar is to be located, according to architectural plans being completed by Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool.

Hunston said part of the main cell block should be completed in time for Sheriff Howard Clark to move some prisoners in by Sept. 1. Prisoners will continue to be boarded at Stark County Jail and at municipal jails in the meantime.

Bids for the jail will be advertised next month and the contract may be awarded by March 1, Hunston said. Separate contracts will be awarded for work on the main building, plumbing and heating, lighting and wiring.

Snyder said the grading work would be handled as quickly as possible when county highway trucks are not needed to salt and ash wintry roads. Plans were to

Wilson Sees No Change In Arms Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told a concerned Congress today he sees no need for any "important changes" in United States armed forces "short of war."

Wilson, appearing before the House Armed Services Committee to report on American military strength, made no mention in prepared remarks of the mounting tension over Red Chinese threats to Formosa. But the Formosa situation loomed large in the background. Also scheduled to brief the lawmakers was Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The House yesterday approved, 409-3, a resolution endorsing action of war, if President Eisenhower

Workers' Children Offered Scholarships

CLEVELAND (AP)—Children of the 40,000 steelworkers in the Cleveland area will be able to compete for four-year college scholarships provided by a welfare and education program of the CIO United Steelworkers District 28.

Officers of the 79 unions in the district, which covers Cleveland, Akron, Lorain, Elyria, Medina and Amherst voted last night for the establishment of a fund that would include college scholarships.

The fund's board of trustees will determine each year the number and amount of scholarships to be awarded.

Also included in the welfare program were provisions for strike funds, educational projects, and sums for expenses incurred in processing workmen's compensation claims.

Local union payments of 10 cents per capita monthly will be collected by the district office for the fund. No benefits are to be paid out before March 1 of next year.

Macfadden Stays Out Of U. S. To Avoid Courts

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP)—Bernarr Macfadden, 87-year-old exponent of the body beautiful, says he's staying in Canada a while in hopes of keeping out of the clutches of the law.

U.S. courts have ordered the thrice-married former publisher and physical culturist to fork over nearly $10,000 in alimony and other payments to two of his divorced wives, Macfadden says he hasn't got it.

Checking into a hotel here yesterday, Macfadden told newsmen he planned to stick around "until things cool off back home."

Senate Approval Is Expected To Follow Quickly

To Give Ike Right To Use Force In Defense Of Formosa Island

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vigorous House approval spurred the Senate today toward completion of congressional endorsement of a Formosa defense policy under which President Eisenhower could order acts of war.

The 409-3 House vote yesterday came within 27 hours after the President had made his request for a resolution giving advance approval for any military action Eisenhower holds necessary to keep Formosa, the Pescadores and other unnamed areas out of Chinese Communist hands. Formosa is the seat of Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government.

"A remarkable unity... in the interest of the nation's security," the President said of the House action. His comment was relayed through White House press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Needs Committee Okay

In the Senate, approval of the resolution by the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees was required before it could act officially.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Foreign Relations Committee predicted the resolution would clear that group during the day. He said he expected overwhelming Senate approval this week.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the Armed Services Committee, joined in predicting committee approval today.

There were signs of uneasiness on the part of some senators, however, over aspects of the closed-door testimony by members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.), for example, said that as he interpreted the testimony, Army Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway approved of the ob-

GOP Official Says Ike Will Run Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant to the Republican national chairman, said today she is convinced that President Eisenhower is going to run for a second term.

She told reporters, however, that he has given no indication of this.

Miss Adkins, who also heads the Republican Women's Division, was hostess to President Eisenhower at a breakfast attended by 18 Republican women leaders from throughout the country.

Miss Adkins said she is going ahead with campaign planning for 1956 on the assumption that Eisenhower will head the GOP ticket. She said this was the general assumption of the women who attended the breakfast.

Reporters pressed Miss Adkins for the reasons back of her conviction that Eisenhower will be the candidate and she replied:

"He still sees things he wants to do for the country and he can't do them in a year and a half."

Twins Weigh 20 Pounds At Birth

Cleveland Mother May Have Set Record

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Wanda Krylow, who weighed just six pounds when she was born, wondered today how her twins happened to tip the scales at a record 20 pounds, 4½ ounces when they were born.

She said her husband, a laborer for a house-moving firm, also was just a standard weight when he was born in the Ukraine.

Nurses, who assisted Friday when the big twins were born after a caesarian section at City Hospital believed they had some kind of a world record. Research by Dr. Allen Barnes, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Western Reserve University, supported them yesterday.

Dr. Barnes checked medical records through 1950 and found the top combined weight for twins through 1950 was an ounce lighter. He said he had not heard of any set of babies being heavier since.

Mrs. Krylow was born in Poland and met her husband, Fedor, here. She normally weighs about 160 pounds.

They had one child previously, a son John who weighed 9 pounds, 15 ounces.

Of the twins, a boy weighed 11 pounds, 5 ounces and a girl weighed 8 pounds, 15½ ounces. Their parents were so surprised at twins that the children have not yet been named.

Raid On Hotel Suite Brings Divorce Action

NEW YORK (AP)—A raid on golfer Bob Sweeney's hotel suite, in which socially prominent Mrs. Pamela Curran Wade was allegedly caught nude, has brought a divorce to cotton broker Joseph Austin Wade, 40.

A private detective testified in court yesterday that the 24-year-old Mrs. Wade, mother of two, was wearing "no clothes at all" and Sweeney was in pajamas when a raiding party burst in on them last July 10.

The detective, Joseph Barrett, said those with him were Wade and his sister Mrs. John Hkarst, and Mrs. Elsie Berry, a private detective.

Mrs. Wade did not contest the divorce. She got custody of one son, William, 3, and Wade was given custody of the other, 2-year-old Joseph Austin Wade III, 2.

A-Bombs, TV Have No Effect On Weather, Scientist Says

NEW YORK (AP)—Try yourself on this true or false list: A-bombs have changed our weather.

A-bombs or H-bombs could be used to stop hurricanes. More television is causing changes in our weather.

You score 100 if you replied false to each one, take it from D. Lee Harris, of the Scientific Services Division, U.S. Weather Bureau, Washington.

He told the American Meteorological Society today of studies which find no effect on wind, temperature or rainfall from A-bomb tests. There might be brief local effects, as from the big cloud which forms, but nationally any effects are insignificant, he said.

One effect might be to make lightning less severe, by increasing the electrical conductivity of the air, but that is mighty hard to prove. Anyhow, taking any sting out of lightning would be good.

Harris and Lester Machta published their findings last week in the magazine Science, and Harris added some sidelights in an interview.

He said he spent six weeks after the 1953 A-bomb tests in Nevada answering letters and calls from people who said (A) that the bombs were lousing up weather, (B) asking if the bombs affected weather.

And there were a number of people who figured that more TV broadcasting was causing more rain, drought or whatever else it was they didn't like.

As for A-bombs on H-bombs as antidotes for a howling hurricane, Harris cites some squelching figures:

Condensation of moisture to form rain releases energy, and the energy released over an entire hurricane is equal to the energy of 2½ Hiroshima A-bombs every second.

Legislature Gets 47 New Bills

Seek To Force County To Take Disabled Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty-seven bills and one proposed constitutional amendment — including four measures from the administration of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche — were introduced in the 101st General Assembly yesterday.

Majority members of the Republican-controlled Legislature still, apparently, had not reached agreement on their "policy" bills for the present legislative session. But Democrats, spurred by Lausche's state-of-the-state message, offered these yesterday and promised more later this week.

A bill by Sen. Frank King (D-Lucas) to force Harrison County officials to conform to federal and state regulations in setting up a program — run by civil service employees — to grant federal-state aid to the permanently and totally disabled. Harrison County officials, who said they want to stay independent of the federal aid program, have imperilled Ohio's receipt of some three million dollars a year in federal aid for the program.

A bill to take all limits off aid for the aged and lift limits on payments for medical aid recipients. Maximum monthly payment now is $65 a month. The bill provides the state would pay actual living costs for recipients. The bill's sponsor is Sen. Charles J. Carney (D-Mahoning).

A bill to continue for another two years an excise tax on utilities to help pay the cost of poor relief. Its sponsors are Reps. Roy Longnecker (R-Wood) and Thomas J. Barrett (D-Mahoning).

A proposed constitutional amendment to eliminate the constitutional ban against salary increases in mid-term for public officials. The measure, similar to others proposed this session, was sponsored by Sen. John T. Corrigan (D-Cuyahoga).

These other measures were offered:

A House bill to carry out an Ohio School Survey Committee recommendation for a nine-member state board of education with the authority to name a state school superintendent.

Senate and House bills to increase jobless benefits from $30 for 26 weeks to $50 for 39 weeks. Sponsors said the bill represented the view of both CIO and AFL unions.

A House bill permitting writing of fire and casualty insurance on a "multiple-line" basis.

A House bill repealing a 1953 statute permitting limited public inspection of poor relief rolls.

Six House measures by Rep. John Lehman (R-Stark) to tighten and revise controls over coal strip mining. Co-sponsor of two of the measures is Rep. D. O. Taber (R-Gallia).

A House bill to increase the fund for local government aid from 23 million dollars to 28 millions in the next two years.

A House bill to prohibit the sale for gift of liquor on Christmas.

A House bill to appropriate $280,000 for construction of an armory in Logan.

House and Senate bills to create a permanent legislative committee to inspect state building projects to make sure money has been spent as appropriated.

The Senate received nine appointments by the governor for confirmation, including:

Fred H. Johnson, Zanesville, to be a member of the Ohio University board of trustees for a term to end in 1961.

O. B. Atwell, Chillicothe, and C. A. Seiple, Canton, to be members of the Ohio Banking advisory Board for terms ending in 1958. Leonard Yochum, Sabina, to be a member of the Ohio Wildlife Council for a term ending in 1963.

DAMASCUS — Several area farmers attended the demonstration of farm implements shown at John Denny's home at RD Alliance.

Rev. C. G. Stanley, missionary superintendent of Ohio Yearly Meeting spoke at the Goshen Quarterly Meeting at urbana Friday afternoon and gave a missionary report at the business session Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Everett Cattell spent the weekend in Binghamton, N.Y., where they had speaking engagements. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mary. Mrs. Cattell and Mary returned home Monday and Dr. Cattell went to New York City to attend conferences and speaking engagements.

Rev. Clifton Robinson was called to Newport News, Va. by the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. C. R. Robinson.

Mrs. W. A. Talbott and Betty attended a stork shower for Mrs. Regis May of Sebring Sunday.

"Accidents and When are Farmers Liable" was the subject for discussion led by Thomas C. Warrington when the Butler Rural Advisory Council was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron Friday evening. Devotions were conducted by Alfred Warrington, and recreation was in charge of Mrs. Laurence Pemberton. Lunch was served by Mrs. Shelton Harrington of Berlin Center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cameron, with 18 members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bardo will entertain the group Feb. 18 with Laurence Pemberton conducting devotions and Mrs. Frank Denny in charge of recreation.

Mrs. Foster McBride entertained members of the Boswell and Mill Creek Clubs when officers were re-elected and a flower committee composed of Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Foster McBride was appointed.

Officers are President, Mrs. Ray

Stanley; vice president, Mrs. James Chamberlain; and secretary treasurer, Mrs. Paul Martig.

Lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Miss Arla Jean McBride, with 14 present. Mrs. William Griffiths will receive the group Thursday, Feb. 17.

The E double T Club was entertained by Mrs. W. A. Talbott Friday evening when games were enjoyed and collars were made by the group. The special prize was awarded Mrs. Wayne Jenkins.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Betty Lou, with 12 present. Favors were flowered handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Wayne Jenkins will receive the group Feb. 17.

Gregory Peck Returns Without French Girl

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Gregory Peck is home from moviemaking in Europe, but without the French beauty often seen with him abroad.

Asked if Veronique Passani, 22, a newspaperwoman, would come over here later, Peck said on arrival yesterday, "there are no such plans at present."

During Peck's seven months' absence his wife, Mrs. Greta Konen Peck won an interlocutory divorce decree and custody of their three sons.

Adjustment Of Postal Rates

Discussion of postal rates in the new Congress will revive the same arguments that have handicapped the Post Office Department for years. Postmaster General Summerfield's request for higher rates has opened the discussion.

One argument that could be dispensed with to everybody's benefit is that postal service should pay for itself. That is out of the question. If the service were performed by private enterprise, rates would have to be much higher than they ever will be allowed to go while postal service is handled by government.

But neither is there any merit to the argument that rates must be kept unnaturally low because handling the mail is a government service. The government is entitled to recover a reasonable share of the cost of postal service from persons and organizations making the greatest use of the service. It is not equitable to make taxpayers bear all the burden of rising postal costs.

Moreover, it is not sound policy to penalize postal employees and restrict improvement of the vital work they do by grinding the Post Office Department endlessly between the upper and nether millstones of federal deficits and rising expenses.

Postal service can stand improvement. Postal workers are entitled to better pay. Users of the mail are entitled to a larger share of the technological progress they have learned to expect from other communications services that have raised their charges to offset their costs.

It is pointed out by the Post Office Department that a one-cent increase on the first ounce of first-class mail would yield about 237 million dollars a year. Since 75 per cent of all first-class mail is for business use, this cost would be borne largely by profit-making enterprise.

Most of the other rate increases proposed would be borne by profit-making enterprise, too.

It is time to bring the Post Office Department's service charges more closely in line with the trend that has brought increases in charges for all other forms of communication. Politicians should defer to accountants, for a change.

Mad Dogs In Brooklyn

Life sentences without hope of parole were given this week to Jack Koslow and Melvin Mittman, two of the four Brooklyn youths brought to justice after the thrill-killing of a helpless vagrant.

The other two boys, Jerome Lieberman and Robert Traubenberg, were not directly implicated in the vagrant's murder. They will be dealt with on other charges standing against the quartet. These include assaults on helpless men and beatings administered to girls.

Koslow was the leader of the boys; at 18, he was the oldest. From childhood on, his behavior had been so conspicuously unnatural that his family, teachers, employers and psychiatrists who were called in for advice all expected some tragic result. Yet, nothing was done to avert it. Nothing could be done.

Koslow was permitted to move about freely, as if nothing ever had been found wrong with his mentality. He was permitted to influence other youths and ultimately to ruin their lives, to say nothing of the suffering he caused to wholly innocent persons whose paths happened to cross his.

There will be a day — and before the end of this century — when it will seem incredible that persons known to be capable of bestiality once were permitted to roam at large.

Bringing Marx Up To Date

An announcement has been whispered in Moscow that will be heard around the world, wherever Communists gather.

The master minds of the Communist conspiracy are going to bring Karl Marx up to date. His "Das Kapital," last revised in 1924, is going to be revised again.

"Faults" will be removed. "Interpretations" will be improved. Until the changes have been revealed, no Communist will know what to believe.

Since the announcement of the forthcoming change has been ordered by the first secretary of the party, Nikita S. Krushchev, it is a good guess the revised Marx will be according to Krushchev. This evidence of his power may be the signal for Communists throughout the world to start studying Krushchev, as they formerly studied Lenin, Trotsky, Stalin—and Marx and Engels.

The life of a Communist is not a merry one, but it must be a lively one. While the master minds are busy with the latest revision of Marx, their followers will be men without an ideology. Anything they may think of to say is in danger of being obsolete before they have caught their breath.

And if it's too obsolete, they might lose their breath forever.

War Preventive

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Formosa Plan Designed To End Aggression

For the first time since December 1941, a president of the United States has formally requested authority from Congress to use the armed forces of the United States in a specific situation involving already existing hostilities.

It may truly be said that the President has acted to prevent a war rather than to bring one on. And, if there is a calming down of the situation in the Far East in a few days, the world may witness a dramatic vindication of the philosophy expressed so often by statesmen of courage that the best way to deter an aggressor government is to let it know clearly and explicitly in advance that you will resist.

The Congress is ready to support the joint resolution overwhelmingly. This in itself is a demonstration not only of national unity but firmness in a crisis.

THE REPUBLICANS naturally follow their party leader, while the Democrats are saying that the chief executive already has ample power but they are not unwilling to express their support by voting for the resolution so that world opinion may be impressed. It presents a combination of legal and psychological factors.

Eisenhower might have spoken in person to Congress instead of transmitting his written request by messenger to both houses, but it was stated in his behalf that he didn't want to over-dramatize the occasion and give the impression that this was like other instances in history when a request for war powers was being made. Still it would have been better if the President had addressed Congress, especially since later in the same day he posed before the newsreels and television cameras and read half the text of the message anyway.

The wording of the document is of transcendent importance as a precedent. Careful examination of its phrases will reveal that providing "military and economic support to the Chinese Nationalist government" is only one of several reasons for the step. Primarily the objective is to protect the interests of the United States.

The Republic of China, with its capital of Formosa, has invited American aid and when any government requests aid from another, it is in accord with international law to come to its support. The resolution, however, states that the move is designed to resist an armed attack, which, "if continued, would gravely endanger the peace and security of the West Pacific area." It goes on to say that "the secure possession by friendly governments of the Western Pacific island chain, of which Formosa is a part, is essential to the vital interests of the United States and all friendly nations in or bordering upon the Pacific Ocean."

THIS MAKES clear the case for a specific defense of the United States by protecting its outlying areas. For, in an age of airpower, it is vitally important that bases thousands of miles away from one's own continent shall be in friendly hands lest an attack by air be launched from those bases.

President Truman recognized this principle when he ordered the U.S. Seventh Fleet to protect Formosa in June 1950 when American forces joined with other nations in a United Nations command to resist aggression in North Korea. Many observers feel that Truman should have gone to Congress after that act of intervention to secure ratification of what he had done.

Already using that precedent as a guide, many persons are saying now that President Eisenhower didn't need to go to Congress to get authority to protect Formosa.

THE TRUTH is that in an emergency a president can act on his own, but he is morally bound to go to Congress for confirmation if the hostilities continue or are enlarged as they were in Korea.

Eisenhower promised the American people in his 1952 campaign that he would consult Congress before taking any steps that might lead to war. He is making good that promise.

The people's representatives have a right and duty to join with him, especially since the Constitution gives Congress alone the power to declare war.

Certainly if there's time, it's always better to go to Congress, and there is no reason why a president in a developing crisis — these incidents rarely happen without some warning — cannot ask Congress in advance for contingent authority.

That's what Eisenhower has done now and it may prove a salutary device in preventing a local skirmish from turning into a big war.

Cairo Cover-Up

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Unless the Cairo conference was conducted in that gay and casual mood that distinguished the other wartime conferences in the Roosevelt and Churchill were leading figures, the written record of that meeting might be very pertinent to the present crisis over Formosa. But the record of that conference, like that of Yalta and other such meetings, is still hidden away in the hands of the State Department bureaucracy. At a moment when we may all be called upon for wartime sacrifices, we might well, after 11 years, be informed of exactly what a departed president pledged us to.

It was reported before the recent election that, safely after any possible political use could be made of what a former administration did for us at Yalta, we might be permitted to see the Yalta papers—or at least that part of the record that the bureaucrats felt we might safely be trusted with.

In October, the magazine Newsweek published some of the information which had leaked out. The State Department was not pleased with that disclosure, especially since it indicated that a few vital remarks by President Roosevelt had been expurgated.

Later, for some reason it was determined not to release the Yalta papers as scheduled. The Cairo and Potsdam papers also should be forthcoming, but they are not yet available. Unless the Democratic leadership in Congress is just as fearful of what might be disclosed as is the State Department bureaucracy, it might well ask for a look at the record before the dread die of war is cast in the Far East.

What we do know from the statements released at the time of the Cairo conference is that Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill assured Generalissimo and Mrs. Chiang that Japan was to be deprived of all the conquests it had gained by aggression since the visit of Commodore Perry in 1853. And that Formosa, Manchuria, and the Pescadores should be restored to China.

Russia was not a party to that declaration and was later given rights in the alleged Chinese territory of Manchuria which substantially denied Chinese sovereignty there.

The surrender of Japan threw the question of sovereignty into doubt. Later, Japan was formally ousted by the peace treaty of 1952. Chiang took over by suzerainty and presumably exercises de facto sovereignty. But the United States as the liberator of Formosa and the Pescadores has an interest in defending those territories against attack by a force which we do not recognize as the legitimate government of China.

In this cloudy atmosphere in the Far East it is impossible to expect any precise recognition of the sovereignty of Chiang over Formosa and the Pescadores. Force and force alone will probably prevail for some time.

But the American people are entitled to know all that went on at that historic Cairo meeting. This, the State Department has a duty to disclose.

Gen. MacArthur At 75

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The celebration of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's 75th birthday, with fitting ceremonies, at Los Angeles, will for many re-open the campaign in Congress to gain for the general the acknowledgment which he deserves by bestowing upon him the title of "General of the Armies."

On Dec. 6, (1950) ten days after the disastrous turn of events, the Joint Chiefs of Staff dispatched a cable to MacArthur embodying a general presidential order allegedly sent to all responsible officials. One paragraph read that "no speech, press release, or other statement concerning military policy should be released until it has received clearance from the Department of Defense."

There was nothing for MacArthur to do but to accept what he knew was a full-fledged gag. "Meanwhile the Chinese Communist emissaries from Peking had arrived in New York City and were arrogantly announcing that before they would enter into a discussion over Korea, the United States must be put on trial before the United Nations for its actions in entering the civil war."

IT WAS NO NEW thing for MacArthur to fight on two fronts—to fight an enemy army in the field and at the same time to fight odds without precedent in history—the odds of permitting offensive action without defensive retaliation.

DESPISE HIS experience and competence, MacArthur found himself practically an outcast while he was engaged in the conduct of war.

Frazier Hunt, in his very important book, "The Untold Story of Douglas MacArthur," tells of the gagging of the general so that he could not speak to the American people.

MacArthur was right. No matter what is done by this country or by Great Britain or by the United Nations to minimize Asia as the central continent of this historic period, Asia reasserts herself daily and the Chinese Communists hold universal interest and attention.

IT HAS ALWAYS been Gen. MacArthur's concept that the next era of history is Asia's. Daily it is becoming clear that it cannot be otherwise.

MacArthur's birthday is being celebrated while the fight over the Tachens becomes a tense international problem with the United States not knowing precisely what to do about it.

Had MacArthur bombed the Manchurian sanctuary in 1951, there could be no such problem today for the Red Chinese would not suffer the self-glorification of having defeated America's greatest general in a war.

A Trip To The Country

By TRUMAN TWILL

When we spoofed house designers here the other day, we drew a tart note from an admirer of Frank Lloyd Wright. So it is with misgivings that a related subject is tackled, although this time we're not spoofing.

The related subject is an idea for taking care of the big exodus in the event of atomic war, when millions of families would be suddenly in need of new shelters because their old ones had been whoshooed down or irradiated.

Federal housing officials are eyeing the possibility of handling the displaced householders in mobile homes, or "trailers," to use the commoner name. At least one trailer manufacturer already is using the sales pitch that if you want a trailer on a standby basis in the open country 25 or 30 miles from your urban residence and head for it at the first sign of trouble.

On the assumption there won't be much chance to get there in an automobile, the manufacturer suggests the site for this standby home away from home had better be within walking distance. It's a wonderful solution for a knotty problem. But whenever the knotty problem is mentioned, it doesn't seem to be the real problem at all for people who already live in the open country.

Their problem, if anything happened, would be how to protect themselves from hordes of urban refugees who would trample over the countryside, raiding, pillaging, terrorizing and generally running amuck. Since there would be hundreds of these for every rural resident, the latter wouldn't have a chance. They would be in the same hopeless position as the countryman always has been in when invasions occurred.

Although most ruralites would want to do the right thing and succor the suffering with open-hand hospitality, they would not against personal enemies in Washington.

He had had to do that throughout World War II. His very presence in Asia was a diversion from the Roosevelt-Hopkins-Truman-Acheson decision that the Far Eastern War should be subordinated to the European War, that even after our break with Russia as an ally, events and conditions in the Far East should not be permitted to lessen our concern for Europe.

It was MacArthur's preoccupation with Asia which brought upon his head the enmity of the British, particularly of Winston Churchill.

But MacArthur was right. No matter what is done by this country or by Great Britain or by the United Nations to minimize Asia as the central continent of this historic period, Asia reasserts herself daily and the Chinese Communists hold universal interest and attention.

IT HAS ALWAYS been Gen. MacArthur's concept that the next era of history is Asia's. Daily it is becoming clear that it cannot be otherwise.

MacArthur's birthday is being celebrated while the fight over the Tachens becomes a tense international problem with the United States not knowing precisely what to do about it.

Had MacArthur bombed the Manchurian sanctuary in 1951, there could be no such problem today for the Red Chinese would not suffer the self-glorification of having defeated America's greatest general in a war.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

All's Video On The Potomac

President Eisenhower permitted a telecast of his press conference the other day . . . Governmental competition to "Twenty Questions," as it were . . . In a way it was national endorsement of quiz programs . . . No prizes for right answers . . . But Ike scored well even if he didn't win an electric broiler, a year's supply of headache powders, a trip to a Honolulu golf links, and the White House painted inside and out. He was the coolest quiz-show guest we have ever seen, and didn't even appear annoyed that Bob Hope was getting $100,000 the same day for less work and no questions asked.

It looks as if Ike had dropped all objection to TV up to the point of a telecast showing him trying to get out of a sandtrap. To airwave fans it was a distinct novelty to behold on a TV prolixity smile, show indignation if the audience gram a performer who didn't overdo a personality smile, show indignation if the audience didn't react as expected or spring a gag about Liberate.

This first telecast of a presidential press conference in history may do much to tear away the opposition to telecasts of governmental routines, and, ultimately, the press conference itself may display real showmanship, with the Marine Band supplying an opening number and dancing girls spelling the name "IKE" for overhead cameras. (Now we know why Arthur Godfrey was a recent White House guest.)

Ike can clinch the election next year by this press conference TV format:

1—Theme song: "I Wonder Who's Quizzing Me Now."

2—Arrival of President with special lighting effects and wild mechanical applause.

3—"And away we go!" by Secretary Hagerty.

4—Announcement of prizes for newspaper guests who say, "I'm from Brooklyn" and ask the best questions.

5—President braces self, registers fortitude, hopes for the best and takes a position against a target-board borrowed from a bow-and-arrow act. Musical numbers: "They Wouldn't Believe Me," "Sympathy," "Across A Crowded Room," "I Can't Do That Sum," "Don't Ask Me Why," "I Can't Say No."

6—Stimulation of public interest by questions from a newspaper woman in bathing attire.

7—Further stimulation by receipt of telegraphed questions on Asiatic and European situation from Lucille Ball the Taylor Dancers, George Gobel, Sherman Billingsley and "Variety" magazine.

8—Commercial: "Send no money. Just drop a postcard to Ike and get four-way-relief from whatever troubles you."

The reconciliation of Dorothy McGuire and her sergeant represents a terrific victory for the Army, the more so when you realize that show business outnumbers the armed services in press agents ten to one . . . And it demonstrated that it is possible for one soldier to get home with or without Hammarskjold. We hear La Rosa attributes his defeat to poor intelligence work, tactical mistakes and an order prohibiting him from bombing the Godfrey Islands.

In that recent refusal of the New York Racing authorities to give racing dates to Jim Butler the charts record it: "Butler broke well; was bumped by Cole at start; made a race of it until Langley cut across field at first turn; knocked to knees by Swirl in stretch and was helped from track by veterinarian. Will bear watching."

Our prediction is that the stock market probe will open strong but close weak.

George Jessel will now try a one-man show on Broadway . . . The solo flight trend is spreading.

Miami claims full credit for Dot McGuire's reconciliation following visit there with her husband and insists it is another proof of the Gulf Stream influence.

Ike's Economic Report Rapped

CIO, Truman Aide See High Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO and one of former President Truman's economic advisers today challenged President Eisenhower's claim of a strong economic comeback in 1954 and his optimistic forecast of a "high and satisfactory level of employment within the current year."

Both Stanley H. Ruttenberg, the CIO's education and research director, and Leon Keyserling, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under Truman, took issue with Eisenhower's Jan. 20 economic report to Congress as the Senate-Economic Committee opened hearings on the document.

Ruttenberg said in prepared testimony the economy operated at lower levels in 1954 than in 1953, although he conceded that "within the last two or three months there have been signs of an upturn in the economy."

But, said the CIO spokesman, "employment in manufacturing industries is still running more than a million behind a year ago," with part-time employment "still greater."

Keyserling said in a prepared statement that 1954 "could not be characterized as anything other than a year in which we fell dismally short of maximum employment and maximum production."

And, he added: "Because the end of the year, allowing for the growth factor, found us further from these goals than the start of the year, I am less optimistic for 1955 . . . than I was for 1954 . . . from the standpoint of levels of unemployment."

Keyserling, now an economic consultant here, said "optimistic" forecasts now look for a 1955 output about 3 per cent above that in 1954. But this, he asserted, "would not be nearly enough growth to reduce unemployment sufficiently, absorb new entries into the labor force, and keep up with advancing technology."

The President pegged current national production at about 360 billion dollars. He said that with "wise management" this could be upped to 500 billion within 10 years.

In his economic report, Eisenhower said recovery from the 18-month business recession "has already made up half of the preceding decline in industrial production."

Ruttenberg, in an apparent reference to statements like this in the Eisenhower report, said that "with a growing and expanding economy and the need for further expansion, we cannot afford to be smug about past achievements. Nor can we gloat over the fact that a depression has been avoided."

Softer Russian Attitude Toward Japan Foreseen

TOKYO (AP)—Foreign Office sources today saw the Soviet Union move ending the legal state of war with Germany as a possible indication of a new peaceful move toward Japan.

"Judging from past indications, Russia probably will make a more concrete move in adjusting diplomatic relations with Japan, instead of a mere declaration of the end of the state of war," Kyodo news agency said in quoting Foreign Office sources.

Education Meet Scheduled By SS Union

GREENFORD — A School for Christian Education is being held at the Greenford School in four-meeting series of sessions.

Sponsored by Green Township Sunday School Union, the meetings will be held Wednesdays on Feb. 2, 9 and 16. Initial meeting will be held today.

Visitors are welcome to attend. Young men will be honored at a meeting of the Brotherhood group of the Lutheran Church tonight. Rev. Arvid E. Kuitunen, who has been ill of pneumonia, is improving at his home. Sunday services in the Greenford Church were conducted by John A. Cross and Dewey Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crawford and daughter, Joanne, and Miss Phyllis Feicht have returned from a month's vacation to the west coast. Mrs. Emerson Calvin is reported improving at her home following an illness.

SKIPS NEWS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower decided to skip his regular Wednesday news conference this week because he "does not want to have anything more to say" on his Formosa defense policy while it is pending in Congress.

Criminologist Says Sheppard Case Not Over

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Paul L. Kirk, University of California criminologist, declared, "The Sheppard case is not closed," as he prepared to return to the West Coast today after spending three days investigating the July 4 murder of Marilyn Sheppard.

He said his private investigation was "going along satisfactorily," and added:

"I found a few things." Dr. Kirk, who declined to elaborate, was hired by defense attorneys to make the investigation. He spent an hour yesterday at county jail with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, convicted of second-degree murder and sentenced to life in prison.

Dr. Kirk said he had conducted extensive scientific tests in the comfortable lakefront home where the 31-year-old pregnant woman was clubbed to death. Much of his work, he said, was in the Bay Village socialite's blood-spattered second-floor bedroom.

He said he was taking some physical evidence—presumably material found at the house—with him to Berkeley, Calif., where he will make laboratory tests. He had been denied permission to take along any items introduced as evidence in Sheppard's 10-week trial and now held by the county prosecutor.

He called the Sheppard family "forthright" in answering his questions, and added: "They did not hold back anything; they told me things they had not discussed among themselves."

In his interview with the 31-year-old convicted osteopath, Dr. Kirk said Sheppard "suggested things to look into in making the investigation."

Sheppard, who maintains an intruder killed his wife, is appealing his second-degree murder conviction.

Geese May Have Killed Fox In Water

NORTH KINGSTON, R.I. (AP)—Richmond Viall Jr. says he heard the family pet geese honking loudly the other night. On investigation he saw seven geese surrounding a hole in the ice of a nearby pond. The following day, he said, he went to the hole and found the body of a 14-pound fox.

His deduction is that the fox fell into the pond while stalking the geese and the geese kept him in the water until he drowned.

Camp Kilmer May Close

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The Newark Star-Ledger says Camp Kilmer, huge Army processing center near New Brunswick, may be closed

John Barrymore Jr. To Be Named In Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Barrymore Jr., 22, will be named today in a divorce suit filed by red-headed former actress Cara Williams, 28, her attorney says.

Milton Golden said yesterday she will charge extreme cruelty and will ask custody of their 9-month-old son, John Barrymore III, and reasonable support.

The couple was married Dec. 23, 1952 in Las Vegas, Nev. She formerly was married to jockey Alan Gray. This is Barrymore's first marriage.

Salem Garden Club Plans Interesting Year of Events

Salem Garden Club's new year creed, prefaced by the club's creed, distributed at the Jan. 22 meeting in the Ruth Smucker House by the program chairman, Mrs. G. F. Jones, indicated a pleasant season of interesting topics.

Mrs. E. S. Huffman, president, will again be assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Fouts and Mrs. W. J. Reardon vice presidents; Mrs. Clifford Segesman, secretary; and Mrs. G. R. Votaw, treasurer.

A house plant show is scheduled for Feb. 28 when Mrs. John Smeltz will talk on "Indoor Gardening."

March 28, Mrs. E. R. Joshua of Youngstown will conduct a workshop at 10 a.m. in the Smucker House. Arrangements made at the workshop will be displayed at the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Chester Dean will review a book at a guest dinner April 25 in the Smucker House.

"Flowering Trees" will be Mrs. R. E. Smith's topic when she talks to the group at a spring flower show May 23.

June 2, the group will tour the Iriworm Farm Iris Gardens at Warren and a "Hobo" lunch will be a feature of the program.

The members will meet July 25 at 11 a.m. in Centennial Park for a "brunch." Guest speaker, W. C. Baker will talk on the subject, "Planting to Feed the Birds." Mrs. H. E. Parnham, noted horticulturist, will speak at the Sept. 26 meeting at the Salem Country Club.

A joint meeting with the Garden Study Club will feature a talk by Mrs. Henry Birch on "Flower Arranging in the Home" Oct. 24 in the Library assembly room.

Members will have a workshop Nov. 28 in the Smucker House which also will be the scene of the Christmas party and tea Dec. 12, when green ribbon awards will be made. Speakers of the afternoon will be the Artistic Six.

Show Classifications
Some of the members are planning to participate in the Garden Forum in Youngstown Feb. 9. The following classifications for the show are: Anniversary Waltz—Class I; Let Me Call You Sweetheart, a Valentine Arrangement for a lunch table; b. Valentine novelty for child's party.

Class II: God Bless America patriotic arrangement (accessories permitted).

Class III: My Desire, arrangement in your favorite container, non-blue ribbon winner.

Class IV: Stein Song, a. An arrangement in a stein; b. An arrangement in a bottle or suitable container.

Horticulture—African violet (name variety). Must be in exhibitors hands for one year.

Green ribbons were awarded at Monday's meeting to the following exhibitors of artistic horticulture arrangements: Mrs. Huffman, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. V. R. Horning, Mrs. H. A. Ennemark, Mrs. John Little, Mrs. John Bauman, Mrs. C. Robert Conroy, Mrs. R. E. Smith, Mrs. V. J. Bober, Mrs. Votaw, Mrs. Alroy Bloomberg, Mrs. Louie Caplan, Mrs. R. K. Zimmerman, Mrs. M. I. Walken are the Junior Garden Clubs.

Members were entertained by two guest speakers Mrs. R. H. Weidman of Hartsville state Garden Center chairman, and Mrs. Glenn DeHoff of East Canton. They stress and promote garden center work as a service to the community.

The tea table, overlaid with a white linen cloth, was attractive with its red and white color scheme. Mrs. Huffman and Mrs. C. B. McConner presided.

Mrs. Harry Krohn had as her associate hostesses, Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. C. H. Waldron, Mrs. George Conrad, Mrs. A. V. Smith, Mrs. L. B. Harris, Mrs. F. W. Hone, Mrs. Matt Melitschka, Mrs. Baudman, Mrs. Howard McDonald, Mrs. R. R. Cuthbert, Mrs. Lester B. Linder, Mrs. George Gartner, Mrs. Roy Meyer and Mrs. C. C. Miller.

Myrus, Star Of Television, To Give Show

Myrus

Myrus, the mind reader and television personality, is scheduled to appear in conjunction with the annual American Legion Band Concert to be held March 3 in the Salem High School Auditorium.

Known as the "wizard of telepathy," Myrus is featured in his own mind reading show on television each week.

No seats will be reserved and sales will be halted when 900 tickets have been sold. Ticket Chairman Les Brantingham has announced.

Tickets may be purchased from Broadway Lease Drug, Kridler Real Estate, Fisher's News, Hedleston's Drugs, Braut's Market or from any band or auxiliary member. Adult tickets will be $1.50 and students will pay $1.

The Legion Band, which received second place honors in national competition and first place in the state, will present a selection of light and semi-classical music.

SQUARE DANCE PLANNED

Square dancing for children of Branches 17 and 18 of Saxon Club will be sponsored Friday night.

Sessions for the younger group are set for 7:30 p.m. and the older youth at 8:30 p.m.

Serve Lincoln Log Cake

We have no evidence that Honest Abe, the railsplitter, ever ate a cake like this. But we do think it's a perfect dessert for the Lincoln's Birthday party.

Lincoln Log (Orange and Mace Flavored)

(Yield: 8-10 servings)
4 eggs, separated
1 cup soft brown sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons fresh orange juice
1 1/2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 cup sifted cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon ground mace

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Beat in 1/4 cup sugar and set aside. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add orange and lemon juice. Gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold beaten egg yolks. Sift flour with the salt, baking powder and ground mace, all at one time, and fold in gently.

Four batter into a paper-lined, greased 15x10x1-inch jelly roll pan. Bake 15 minutes or until done in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Turn out onto a towel sprinkled with confectioners' sugar. Quickly remove paper. Roll up cake in the towel. Cool.

Unroll. Spread with orange frosting. Roll up. Sift confectioners' sugar lightly over the roll or frost, to resemble bark on the log, with orange frosting. If desired, shave bitter chocolate or slivered orange rind over top.

Orange Frosting
(Yield: Sufficient frosting for both inside and outside of cake roll)
1-3 cup butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons fresh orange juice
Beat butter or margarine, grated orange and lemon rinds together. Add confectioners' sugar alternately with orange juice. Spread over cake roll. Roll up and frost top and sides.

Eagles Auxiliary Honors Past Leaders

Past Presidents were honored at the third annual Past President's Night sponsored by Eagles Auxiliary Monday evening in the lodge hall.

A white cake with three candles provided a table centerpiece when three past presidents were honored. They are Mrs. Mary Brudery, Mrs. Earlin Yeager, and Mrs. Robert Entrikin.

Charter members were honored at the affair.

An invitation was accepted by the auxiliary to attend a session Sunday at Columbiana.

February social committee is comprised of Mrs. Hazen Kelly, chairman; Mrs. DeLuss Duffy, Mrs. Steven Fronius, Mrs. Lloyd Morrow, and Mrs. Elmer Meier.

Eagles Home will be gathering place for the meeting Monday, Feb. 14.

Area Students On Kent Honor Roster

Reilly P.T.A. Considers City Curfew Rule

Over 200 members and guests of Parent - Teacher Associations of the Salem schools met at the Reilly School Monday night with the Reilly P.T.A. members serving as hosts.

The Reilly P.T.A. president, Richard Burcaw, welcomed the visitors and introduced Daniel Weber, who explained a proposed city curfew ordinance to be considered by the group. Mr. Weber is a member of the legislative research committee of City Council.

Project chairman, Donald Stelts, outlined plans for a School Fair to be sponsored by the P.T.A. in the school March 25. The following committee chairmen were appointed.

Baked goods, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Starkey; country store, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. McClaskey; fish pond, Mr. and Mrs. George Hanson; games, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Zeller; hobbies, Mr. and Mrs. Al A. Spencer Sr.; refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Boughton; publicity, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rhodes Jr.; and procurement, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burcaw.

The next P.T.A. meeting at Reilly school will be Feb. 28.

Entertainment for the evening's program was presented by the Mullinairs, a 32-voice chorus directed by Dr. Carl Scheig of Warren. Dr. Scheig is supervisor of music in the Warren schools. Accompanist for the singers was Thomas Crothers, supervisor of music in the Salem schools.

Robert Oswald, P.T.A. program chairman, introduced the group. The Mullinairs president, Edwin Probert, announced the numbers which included:

"The Star Spangled Banner," "A Grand Night for Singing," "Beyond the Blue Horizon," "Brown October Ale," "Tell Me Why," featuring solo parts by Herb Mercer a duet by Mr. Mercer and Larry Stowe and audience participation in the second chorus;

"The Happy Wanderer" featuring a trio comprised of Joe Starr and Angus Ferguson of the Warren plant and Herb Mercer; "I Believe," narrated by Dale Culbertson; and "The Lord's Prayer."

Informal singing by the Mullinairs was enjoyed when lunch was served by Mrs. William Haught and her committee.

Club Will Convene

Mrs. MacTavish gets her dream house

At last she has the home of her dreams! A modern house — with a yard for the children and space for flowers. Most important to Mrs. MacTavish, though, are all those wonderful electric appliances she's always longed for! With them, she'll have the time and energy for the things she's always wanted to do.

It seems like luxury at first. But soon she'll think of all her electric servants as necessities. As time goes on, she'll add even more.

Stop and think, for a minute, how many electric servants you've added in the last ten years. Appliances which have made your life easier and more enjoyable.

So, even though the price of electricity has gone down in that time, your electric bill may be higher. But when you think of the many things electricity does for you, twenty-four hours a day, don't you agree that it is still the biggest bargain in your family budget?

Toole-Gurney Vows Pledged In Homeworth

Miss Arlene Mae Toole and Gene Arnold Gurney exchanged marriage vows in a quiet ceremony Saturday in the Toole home in Homeworth.

Miss Toole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Toole while the groom is the son of Mrs. Walter L. Kuntzman, all of Homeworth. Marjorie Toole attended the bride while Jerry Tanner acted as attendant for the groom.

Seventeen guests greeted the couple at a reception in the Toole home following the ceremony. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. A. H. McGirr and Mrs. J. E. Stewart. Guests were present from Alliance, Sebring and Homeworth.

Mr. Gurney is employed at the Allison Canfield Service near Alliance. Mrs. Gurney is an employee of the G. C. Murphy Co. in Alliance. Both are graduates of Alliance High School.

Baptist Youth Group Observes Fun Night

A combined Fun Night and Initiation Party was attended by about 30 members of the Senior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church on Sunday night.

Each member was installed in a mock initiation ceremony. Instrumental music was featured and slides were shown and illustrated by Bob Bennett.

Program committee for the evening included Bill Sommers, chairman; and Frank Heston, Lea Doyle, Jane Doyle, and George Burrier. Junior High Fellowship members were present for the luncheon and slide-showings.

Advisors to the group are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bush and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Critchfield.

Potato-Beef Stew Is Rich

For plain, good eating, serve a beef stew. Make it a bit different from the usual by combining tender beef chunks with potato balls and green beans.

To have it at its finest here are a few pointers on preparation. First of all, if you want a rich, golden brown stew, thoroughly brown the meat cubes in lard or drippings. Keep the temperature low and take your time in browning them — up to twenty minutes or longer.

To increase browning, first dredge the meat cubes with flour. Simply place flour in a paper bag, add the beef cubes and shake the bag. After browning the meat, cover it completely with water. Then place a cover on the utensil and let the meat simmer until tender. Add vegetables to the meat just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be tender.

After browning, a stew may be cooked in the oven if you wish. Set your oven regulator at 300 degrees F.

Beef Stew
2 pounds boneless beef for stew
1/4 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons lard or drippings

Water
24 potato balls or 6 large potatoes, quartered
1 pound fresh or a 12-oz. package of frozen green beans, cooked.
Dredge meat with seasoned flour and brown slowly in lard or drippings. Add only enough water to cover. Cover closely and cook slowly until meat is tender, about 2 hours. About 45 minutes before the meat is done, add potatoes and continue cooking until meat is tender and vegetables are done.
Arrange beef cubes, potatoes and hot cooked green beans on a platter. Thicken cooking liquid for gravy. 6 to 8 servings.

down physically some people in apparently excellent health have recurring trouble without any apparent reason.

The medical name for a cold sore is herpes simplex. The cause is a virus. This virus is a living organism which also can produce a reaction in susceptible animals, especially rabbits.

It is difficult to know why herpes behaves as it does. One would expect that it would be contracted only from another person who harbors the virus. Actually it does not seem to be highly contagious but comes mostly when the resistance is weakened by any one of several causes, including infectious diseases, artificial fever treatments, certain vaccinations and overexposure to the sun. One likely explanation is that the virus remains in the tissues and becomes active whenever the resistance to it is lowered.

Recovery usually occurs without any particular treatment in a few days. Susceptible people who have

Cold-Sore Victims

"I am plagued with cold sores on my nostrils and seem to get them once a month," a correspondent complains. "I have tried all sorts of remedies but nothing seems to help. Any suggestions?"

This problem of recurring cold sores is by no means unusual around the nostrils or the lips. Although this troublesome condition is most likely to develop when someone has an infection like pneumonia or is run cold sores one right after another, however, are likely to be much annoyed by the minor symptoms and by the slight disfigurement. One attack predisposes to the recurrence of a cold sore in the same area. The treatment of an ordinary cold sore is simple. During the blister stage a simple drying application, such as spirits of camphor or calamine lotion is usually helpful.

When the blister has broken and a crust has formed, a mild ointment, such as a heavy cold cream, may help to soften the crusts. Some susceptible people receive benefit from X-ray treatment and not only does the herpes which is present go away rapidly, but it seems to be less likely to come back in the same place.

Occasionally, those who are susceptible to repeated attacks of herpes improve after being vaccinated for smallpox. The reason is obscure but evidently there is some relation between the smallpox virus and that responsible for herpes.

Exposure to cold air and especially to the sun may make a cold sore worse or bring on a new crop. Avoidance of direct sunlight or the use of a protective cream may be helpful for those especially troubled by recurring herpes brought on in this way.

Columbiana Republican Men File For Municipal Office

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Republicans have filed an incomplete ticket for municipal offices containing two new candidates, James Magill for mayor and J. K. Harding for treasurer.

The four present Republican councilmen, Herbert Souder, Walter Miller, Arthur Myers and Clifford Orr, are up for re-election, leaving two vacancies for Council; and the entire Republican three-member board of affairs Clyde Hoover, Carl Keller and John Barrow, have filed for re-election.

The two council vacancies may be filled by next Wednesday, the deadline for filing. The Republicans have not had a candidate for clerk against S. Richard Orr, Democrat, for a number of years, nor the Democrats for treasurer.

Magill, candidate for mayor, a salesman with the Columbiana Realty Co., is chairman of the GOP committee, and Harding, candidate for treasurer, a former councilman is a service station owner.

Miss Kathryn Fuhrman, present Republican treasurer, decided not to be a candidate. No contests have developed in either party and the indications are that Columbiana will not need a primary election in May.

THE GOVERNMENT will issue a Rotary Golden Jubilee stamp this year in honor of a 50 year existence of Rotary International being celebrated this year.

At the Monday meeting, Jack Weyman, attendance chairman, announced a new attendance contest. The town will be divided into four sections, with captains for each section. Captains are: George Keller and Lewis Way, northeast; Ira Dalrymple, Sr. and M. V. Redpath, northwest; Charles Adams and Chester Burdick, southwest; Kenneth Ferrall and George Herrmann, southeast.

Dr. William Jones, club chairman for the March of Dimes, announced that a pony donated by Corey Pony Farm will be on exhibition in the business district Friday and Saturday.

JAMES SITLER showed pictures of a recent trip to Alaska, and Rev. W. S. Longworth was welcomed back after an illness of several months.

Visiting Rotarians were: Charles Muller, Youngstown, George Nae, Jr., Lisbon, and Dr. Fred Crowley, Steven Gonda and Harold Benson, Salem, William Grossen of New Waterford and Jack Sitler were guests of Sitler's father, James.

Jack Cox will be program chairman next Monday evening. Rotary will join Kiwanis in entertaining Boy Scouts at the annual banquet to be held at Heck's Monday, Feb. 7. Robert MacFletcher of Youngstown, member of the national Boy Scout council and director of Rotary International, will be the speaker.

Fifty-four members, including 23 World War I veterans, 13 of whom are past commanders, were present for Old Timers' Night at the meeting of Firestone American Legion Post on Monday. The World War I veterans were honored guests.

Post membership is now 260 with a quota of 230, according to the first report of Charles James, new vice commander.

DR. JAMES GARSTICK, Post essay contest chairman, reported 217 entrants had applied from the four classes in each of the two high schools, Columbiana and Fairfield. Essays are being judged and the eight winners from each school will be announced at the next meeting.

Chairman Waldo Schlag reported that the annual Washington Birthday Banquet will be held at Heck's restaurant Monday evening, Feb. 21. A speaker will be announced later.

Graydon Metz showed colored pictures of his recent western trip.

Columbiana Kiwanis Club will hold its annual Father-Son Banquet in the Methodist Church at Washingtonville at 6:30 p.m. next Monday, when Mike Garcia, Cleveland Indians pitcher, will be the speaker. Mark Klingensmith of the Columbiana club obtained Garcia as the speaker.

James Porter, East Liverpool architect, who specializes in town planning, was the speaker at the Kiwanis meeting Monday evening. He emphasized the importance of planning for future growth, especially in view of the prospects for Columbiana.

SOME 25 MOTHERS will visit Columbiana homes this evening in a Mothers March in aid of the March of Dimes to combat polio. Residents are requested to have porch lights on to help canvassers.

Green Thumb Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Gibson on 389 Fairfield Ave. at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Parolee Held For Aiding Prison Escape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus hotel clerk, James O. Welsh, 41, today was in custody charged with violating his parole by helping Ohio Penitentiary lifer Pat McDermott escape last Nov. 28.

Percy Lowery, state pardon and parole Commissioner, disclosed yesterday Welsh was returned to the penitentiary Jan. 18, four days after his arrest on four counts of parole violation, three of them involving McDermott.

Welsh had worked as a clerk at the Oakland Hotel in the city's market district. He was paroled last Aug. 25 from the penitentiary where he had been serving a 10 to 25 year sentence for a 1936 armed robbery in Youngstown.

McDermott, convicted of slaying a crusading Canton newspaper editor, vanished from authorities after walking away from the penitentiary where he worked as a nurse in an honor dormitory.

McDermott left at the end of visiting hours, wearing civilian clothes and accompanied by a red-haired woman.

Today's Ohio State Journal said Welsh's arrest came after an unnamed inmate at city prison claimed he had seen Welsh and McDermott together in the Oakland Hotel lobby after McDermott's escape.

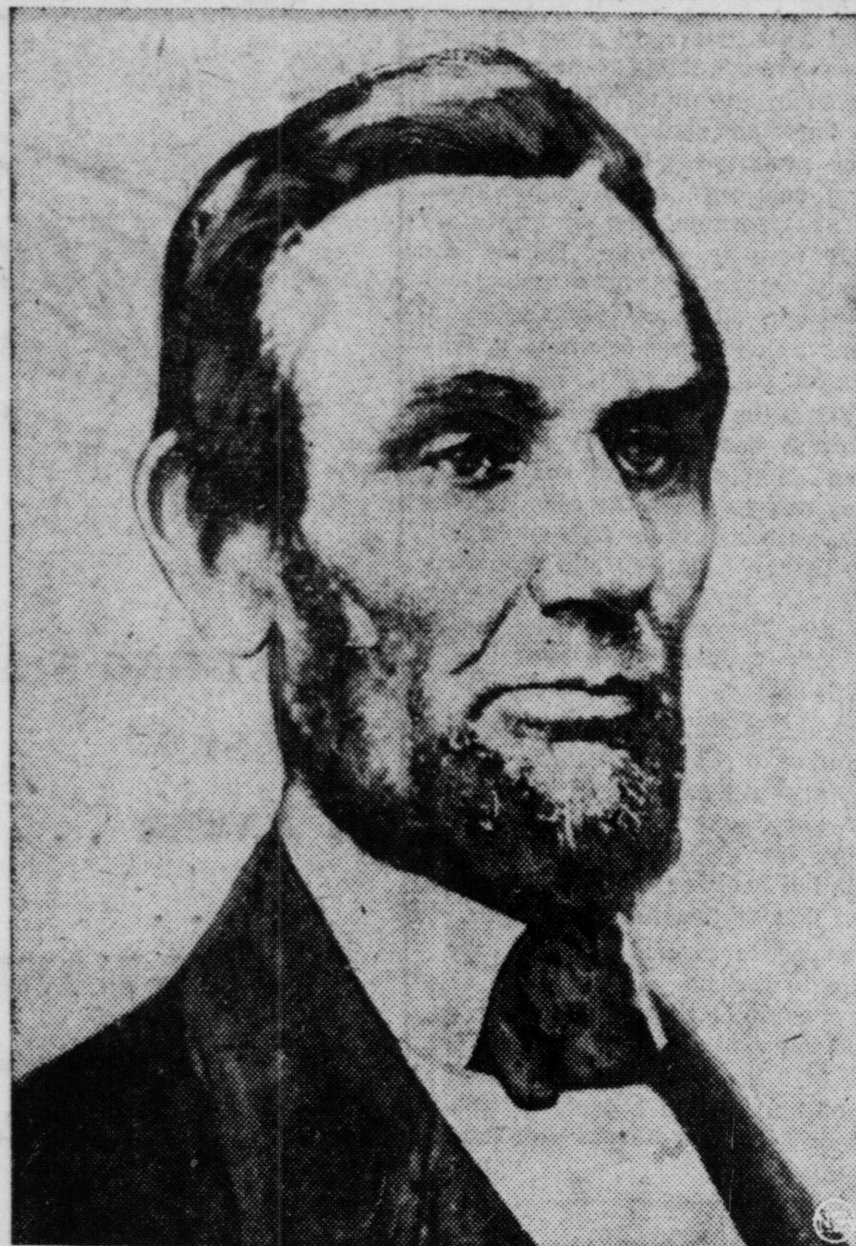

Lowery said the Welsh parole violations include:

- Associating with a criminal.
- Corresponding with a prisoner without permission of the warden.
- Providing a means for McDermott's escape after leaving the prison.
- Living with a woman not his lawful wife.

McDermott was convicted of killing Don R. Mellett, vice-crusading Canton newspaper editor, in 1926.

ADMITTS TAVERN SLAYING

CLEVELAND (AP)—Police quoted Walter Wilson today as admitting he shot and killed Joseph Fena, 40, in a tavern holdup last Wednesday. Fena was shot at his father's tavern. Police said Wilson, 28, was a former patient at a state hospital for the insane in Tennessee.

a short, informal address to 1,100 persons in Biltmore Bowl.

His major address was scheduled for tonight at an American Legion dinner before more than 1,000 in the Ambassador Hotel's Embassy Room. Here, he will receive a four-foot birthday cake decorated with 75 red, white and blue candles and topped with five gold stars—and perhaps a surprise or two.

As he stepped from the plane last night, accompanied by his smiling wife and three aides from New York, MacArthur said:

"I come not as a stranger, but as one who has known your wonderful city for more than 50 years."

The welcoming committee included Mayor Norris Poulson, Consul Pedro G. Ramirez of the Philippines, an old acquaintance, and Consul Pil Shik Chin of Korea and Shinsaku Hogen, Japan.

Hundreds of persons jammed the Statler Hotel lobby and shouted "Happy birthday" as the general entered doffing his homburg and giving his famed wave.

TRY SALEM NEWS WANT ADS

Chiang Forces Prepared To Leave Tachens

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Although Nationalist Chinese officials won't say so, there is no question but that Chiang Kai-shek's forces will abandon the Tachens islands.

Reliable sources said today that many problems involved have been worked out at conferences between Nationalist and American officers. Planning has reached the stage where the operation can begin whenever the signal is given.

Formal announcement appears to await only congressional approval of President Eisenhower's recommendations.

The sources said the evacuation would be a joint operation, under the over-all command of Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet. His flagship, the cruiser Helena, is now at the north Formosa port of Keelung. The English-language China News reported that some 300 planes of the 7th Fleet conducted maneuvers north of Formosa yesterday.

The newspaper, quoting what it called reliable sources, said the air show was considered here to be a "show of strength to tell off the Reds."

There was no immediate comment from the 7th Fleet. Nationalist four-engine bombers attacked Yikiangshan Island through a curtain of anti-aircraft fire in the predawn darkness today and caused extensive damage, official reports said.

Other bombers ranging more than 30 miles northeast in the Yikiang Island area sank a 1,500-ton Chinese Red warship, the reports said.

The official Central News Agency said the total lack of Communist activity yesterday might mean the Reds are preparing for a large-scale attack on one or more of the Nationalist's island outposts.

The agency said there was no indication yet that the Reds would be deterred by President Eisenhower asking congressional authority to secure and protect Formosa, the Pescadores and "related positions and territories."

There never has been any serious question about the Nationalist's acceptance of the plan to evacuate the Tachens, 200 miles north of here and 20 miles off the Red mainland.

Two of the islands are within artillery range of Yikiangshan. The latest air strike at Yikiangshan presumably was intended to suppress Communist guns which might hinder the evacuation of the Tachens.

But Nationalist officials didn't want to give the impression they were eager to abandon any of the island outposts.

Although the evacuation is all set, including deployment of a powerful 7th Fleet force "at the ready," certain formal steps must be taken before it gets under way.

These steps include final congressional approval of Eisenhower's request for authority to use "the armed forces of the United States if necessary to assure the security of Formosa and the Pescadores," a formal offer of U.S. air and naval forces to assist Chiang Kai-shek in the redeployment of his forces, and Chiang's reply, which is certain to be acceptance.

About 15,000 regulars and guerrillas will be evacuated. The 15,000 civilian inhabitants will be given their choice, and most are expected to ask for evacuation.

Premier O. K. Yui has gone into all phases of the Tachens situation with his Cabinet. The Cabinet considered President Eisenhower's message on Formosa and, sources said, found itself in the curious position of harmony with the Reds on one point—opposition to a cease-fire. A source said the Cabinet discussed ways of opposing any United Nations move for a cease-fire.

Sources said there are 30,000 Nationalists on the Tachens, about half soldiers and guerrillas and the rest civilians. Seventh Fleet units bolstered by four carriers of the Essex class were in position to cover a withdrawal when the signal is given. Sources said such a signal would come from Washington after the Nationalist government had notified the United States formally that it wants to pull out.

Miss Elsie Fink, who won fame in Europe as a dramatic soprano with a 45-role operatic repertoire, has been appointed to the voice faculty of the Dana School of Music of Youngstown College, effective with the opening of the new semester, Jan. 31.

Ohio Pastors Urge Korean Cease-Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Pastors' convention went on record yesterday asking U.S. officials to seek a peaceful solution to the Formosa problem through the United Nations.

Delegates also backed policy measures opposing dictatorship and totalitarianism in church and state, and asking for an Ohio fair employment practices act.

Adoption of the policy resolutions headed the second day of the four-day session.

The group agreed to ask U.N. action on Formosa after hearing Dr. W. W. Van Kirk of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America say he believed getting U.N. action on a cease-fire would be difficult.

Dr. Van Kirk, executive director of the council's Department of International Affairs, said a cease-fire proposal would go before the Security Council and likely be vetoed by both Russia and Nationalist China.

He said he favored putting Formosa under a United Nations trusteeship. Earlier, in a prepared address, Van Kirk told delegates U.S. churches must combat the doctrine of isolationism.

He commended President Eisenhower and Secretary of States Dulles for their "stand" against "isolationist" members of Congress. He described this group as the "war party within the Republican Party," and included Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) as a member.

Van Kirk said the U.N. could put an end to the cold war "tomorrow."

"What is lacking is not structure but spirit, the spirit of living and eternal God," he said.

Will Award Prizes For 4-H Club Exhibits

LISBON — Prizes to be awarded to 4-H clubs for outstanding soil conservation exhibits at the county fair in August were planned when the board of supervisors of the soil conservation district met Tuesday night.

A plaque and $10 will be given to the winning club, $7.50 for second place and $5 for third. The displays are to be four to six feet square and show at least four major soil and water saving practices.

Conservation plans for Echo Dell, new girl scout camp in St. Clair Township, and plans for work on seven county farms totaling over 700 acres were approved.

Cornelius Csepke was named to ticket chairman in Perry Township for the annual SCS banquet Feb. 24 at Winona.

Homeworth

A discussion on social security for farmers was held when the Knox Township Farm Bureau Advisory Council met recently with Mr. and Mrs. John N. Baker.

Kenneth Kandel had charge of devotionals, Esther Smith led a discussion on "Accidents — When are Farmers Liable."

A report on the membership campaign was given. Kenneth Kandel was elected to represent the council on the county Agricultural Council. February meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Denny of RD 2, Beloit. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Marie Thomas received a birthday anniversary gift from her secret sister when Mrs. Vigil Conrad entertained the J.F.F. Club at her home in Homeworth Thursday evening. Honors at the "500" games were awarded to Mrs. Merle Maxwell, Mrs. George Sanor and Mrs. Vernon McPeck. Mrs. Thomas will entertain on Thursday, Feb. 3.

Teachers Hold Survey

WEST POINT — Results of a survey of Columbiana County teachers to determine the duties of a principal were analyzed Tuesday night by the County School Administrators Roundtable at West Point School.

The 40-question poll was answered by 152 teachers. Twenty-eight attended and Harold Morrow of West Local School, president, conducted business. The next meeting will be Feb. 28 at Lisbon.

thinks them necessary, to defend the Chinese Nationalist island stronghold from the Reds. The Senate was expected to follow suit in a day or so. Eisenhower asked Congress for the authority in a special message Monday.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee told newsmen the briefing by Wilson and Radford had been scheduled some time ago and was not specifically prompted by the Formosa problem.

In his statement, Wilson said, "We must be prepared, in line with our collective security responsibilities, to come rapidly and effectively to their (Allied nations') assistance . . . in the event of aggression short of general war."

Wilson said he did not expect Russia "to take action during the next few years that would deliberately precipitate another world conflict." But Communist aims are unchanged, he said, and a "conflict might arise through miscalculation on their part."

"I cannot at this time," he added, "foresee any important reduction in the military establishment nor in the total annual military expenditures of the Department of Defense below the present level nor do I see any need for any important increases short of war."

The defense secretary discussed in general administration programs which he said would put American armed forces in a "qualitatively improved state of readiness for an indefinite period of time."

Wilson said continental defense and "effective retaliatory power" have been given "high priority." Next year's program, he said, "lays particular stress on the utilization of nuclear energy in military operations . . . and (in) the development of operational guided missiles to meet the urgent requirements of our air defense and retaliatory forces."

The continental defense program, Wilson said, is being "pushed with all practical speed" and he predicted early development of improved radar, piloted and pilotless planes of all ranges and better antisubmarine devices.

Outlining administration military manpower plans — which have met with some criticism in Congress — Wilson said the Army's current 19-division force would be cut to 18 — 13 mobile divisions, 2 divisions with a fixed mission, and 3 training divisions. There also would be 11 Army regiments, a reduction of 1, and 136 anti-aircraft battalions, an increase of 19.

The Air Force, he said, is aiming for 131 wings, over 23,000 planes and 975,000 men by mid-1956, "four more combat wings than the Air Force planned one year ago."

The Navy, he said, would maintain jectives in the President's request "but he apparently doesn't want Quemoy included" in any Formosa defense ring.

To Keep Off Continent

"He doesn't want to put manpower on the continent of Asia," Sparkman told a newsmen in reference to Ridgway's position. "He regards Quemoy as the same thing." Quemoy, about three miles from the mainland, lies off the big port of Amoy.

While the resolution does not name any offshore islands which this country would fight to defend, Eisenhower in his message called Quemoy "one of the natural approaches to Formosa."

George said Ridgway contended U. S. ground troops should not become involved on the Chinese mainland, and the senator added in an interview:

"I don't think there is any anticipation of using American land forces. Make no mistake, the resolution embraces the use of any of the armed forces but none of the joint chiefs seemed to think that employment of the ground forces was implicit in it."

Unlike the House, which acted under a rule of preventing the offering of any amendments, the resolution will be wide open to possible changes when it comes before the Senate. George said he did not think any would be made.

The House shoved the measure through with only Reps. Siler (R-Ky), Barden (D-NC) and Sheehan (R-Ill) voting "no."

Barden said he regarded the resolution as a type of "future declaration of war." Sheehan told the House the measure should "designate Russia as our real enemy." Siler said he criticized former President Truman for intervening in Korea in 1950 and said "this is the same thing."

Drive Closing Small Post Offices Goes On

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postal authorities said today they will continue to shut down "inefficient" small town post offices despite complaints from Democrats in Congress.

People living in towns where such closures have taken place, a Post Office Department spokesman said, generally prefer the substituted rural free delivery.

But Chairman Johnston (D-SC) of the Senate Post Office Committee said: "I, like many other Senators and Representatives, have been deluged with complaints about the Post Office Department's action in closing many small post offices throughout the country."

If the administration will keep open the Peoli, Ohio, Post Office for the benefit of ex-baseball pitching star Wenton (CMY) Young, he said, there is no reason why it can't keep others in business. Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) said earlier this week the department had advised him it was dropping a plan to close the Peoli Post Office for economy as a favor to Young, who it said received large amounts of mail there.

Shortly after taking power, the Eisenhower administration started closing down many tiny post offices it said were money losers. In his first two years of office, Postmaster General Summerfield has shut down 1,849 of these fourth class post offices. Originally, there were 20,000.

"This is a continuing program," said a post office spokesman. "Our field men are constantly surveying other small post offices to determine whether they should remain open."

Sid Gillman Of Cincinnati Picked As New Coach Of Rams

Succeeds Pool At Los Angeles

U. of C. Coach Has Fine Grid Record

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams finally have selected a successor to Hampton Pool as head coach for 1953. He is Sid Gillman of the University of Cincinnati whose won and lost record is second only to Bud Wilkinson's at the University of Oklahoma.

Gillman signed a contract yesterday in Chicago and was to fly to New York today to join Ram owner Dan Reeves and his associates, Ed Pauley and Fred Levy Jr., for the National Football League draft, which starts tomorrow.

Terms of Gillman's contract were not disclosed, but a good guess would be at least $20,000 a year for at least two years. Pool lasted longer than any other Ram coach — three years. The others served two years or less — Joe Stydahar, Clark Shaughnessy, Bob Snyder and Adam Walsh.

Gillman, after he returned to his Cincinnati home, said he considered the Ram offer a challenge. He said he would bring some of his assistants at Cincinnati here but probably would hire a coach with pro league experience to get the benefit of his knowledge of playing personnel.

Reminded that the Rams long have been a passing team, Gillman said: "You may be sure that the Rams will be air-minded. You have to pass in order to survive in the pro ranks."

Gillman uses what he calls a "spin T" formation. His quarterback spins away from the line rather than going down the line of scrimmage as does the split T quarterback. His quarterbacks carry the ball on occasion, but not so frequently as the split T signal callers.

Although he is new to the pro ranks, some of the pro regard him very highly. Jim Trimble, coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, told a Los Angeles writer he considered Gillman the best college coach in the business, and Red Sanders of UCLA, who is regarded in Los Angeles as just about the best, said his choice would have been Gillman.

Gillman, 43, was born in Minneapolis, played end at Ohio State from 1931-33, was assistant coach there and at Dennison and at Miami of Ohio, where he later became head coach. He was assistant to Earl (Red) Blaik at Army in 1948, then went to Cincinnati where his teams have lost only five games since 1951.

Grid Athletic Scholarships Are Defended

By GAYLE TALBOT
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—For a sports writer who has been around for some time there was a great deal of satisfaction in attending the recent inauguration of Dr. Wilson Elkins, a former fine athlete, as president of the University of Maryland.

An old friendship was involved, but there also was a pleasant feeling that here was the ultimate proof that the sometimes maligned athletic scholarship affords the youth of our land a wonderful opportunity to make something of themselves if that is what they have in mind.

Had there been no such thing as an athletic scholarship, Dr. Elkins would not have had a chance of winning eight letters in football, basketball and track at the University of Texas. He would not have had a chance to win a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford and to gain a string of letters after his name as long as his arm.

It might well be that this is the first instance of a scholarship athlete going onto win such a high academic honor. We'll concede, at least, that it isn't commonplace. But even if there is only one case on record it still is sufficient to prove that the system which made it possible has some good points.

As it happens, Maryland's athletic policies have just been brought under fire by a college accrediting agency. The charges were, broadly, that members of Coach Jim Tatum's football team have too good in the way of scholarships and that some of them are not exceptionally bright. We thought it significant that Dr. Elkins was the one who insisted that the charges be brought into the open, given full publicity and answered.

As an old football hand himself, Maryland's new president knows the ropes, and he will be the last one to pretend otherwise. He knows that all good college football teams are recruited, and he fully intends that his school shall go on being one of the major powers. He is not, however, in favor of dumb football players receiving scholarships which should go to deserving students, and he is making some changes.

"The scholarships have to be balanced up, and I'm going to do it," Dr. Elkins said. "From now on, students are going to get them at least on even terms with athletes."

New Baseball Rule Is Rapped

Catcher's Box Cut To Curb Intentional Pass

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP)—There appeared to be only one thing certain today in the new baseball rule which sets the catcher's box as a rectangle measuring 43 inches in width—no one liked it.

Four receivers on the New York clubs had unkind words for it and Carl Hubbell, farm director of the New York Giants and a great left-handed pitcher in his prime, not only doubted that the rulemakers could make the rule work but also came to the defense of the intentional pass.

"This rule won't serve any purpose at all except to give the catcher more work," said Hubbell. "He'll have to time his jump out of that box to get the wide pitch and maybe for a time we'll see some wild pitches."

"But it won't eliminate the intentional pass and why should it? The intentional pass is a strategic part of the game, a calculated risk by any manager."

The new rule was announced in Chicago Monday. Apparently there is no limit on the depth of the catcher's box. But if he crosses either line before the ball leaves the pitcher's hand, it's a balk.

"I think they'll have to do some clarifying before we can fully understand it," said the Brooks' Roy Campanella. "As for cutting down the intentional pass, I don't think this can figure."

Said the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra:

"I read about it last night but I haven't been able to figure it out yet. But I can't see it stopping the intentional pass."

West Westrum of the New York Giants said: "I can only see it making things tougher for the catcher. It won't stop the intentional pass and it will make it more difficult for us to handle the pitch-out, which is a fast fall."

Nino Valdes Wins 12th Bout In Row

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Nino Valdes, of Havana, chief claimant to a chance at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown, scored victory No. 12-in-a-row and his seventh consecutive kayo last night but added little to his prestige.

He twice floored Jack Flood, a journeyman from Spokane, Wash., once in the first and again in the second before putting him away for good in the seventh of a scheduled 10-rounder.

The end came in 2:37 of the round on a stiff overhand right to the jaw after Valdes had led nearly all the way.

Flood, winner of a dozen of his 24 fights over eight years, was credited on the AP scorecard with only the third round. But he said he absorbed his worst punch, aside from the finisher, in that round.

Before that, he had gone down for an eight count in the first from two right hooks.

Again in the second round, he was dropped to his knees by a right cross but he grabbed the ropes and pulled himself up. There was no count.

Now 24, Joey has won 52 fights, lost 11 and drawn 2. Andrews, 23, has a record of 32-9-5 and has looked none too impressive in his most recent fights.

Giardello hasn't been in the ring since last September when he outpointed Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a closely fought 10-rounder.

A brawl in Philadelphia resulted in Joey's arrest and indictment. The Pennsylvania Boxing Commission suspended him because of the incident, but later reinstated him after he had paid a fine.

Berlin Center Defeated By Goshen 62-48

The Goshen Union Gophers came up with their fourth win of the season against 10 setbacks last night as they defeated the Berlin Center cagers 62-48 at Goshen Union.

The Gophers jumped off to a 15-10 lead at the end of the first period and were out in front at the half and third quarter marks 29-22 and 51-32, respectively.

Jerry Hoyt and Jim Hill paced the Goshen squad with 15 points each. Bob Woolf had 12 and Jim Early 10. Gattrell led the Berlin scoring with 15 points, followed by Carl Yeager with 14 markers.

Berlin Center now has a 7-6 record for the season. Friday night the Goshen squad will face the highly rated North Lima Zippers at Goshen. Newell is at Berlin for a contest Friday night.

The Goshen Reserves also triumphed 44-33.

Fairfield High Coach Is Hospitalized As Team Wins No. 11

In a victory marred by their coach's removal to Salem City Hospital, Fairfield High cagers blasted Salineville 92-64 in a game played at Salineville last night.

Coach Ted Ossoff suffered a kidney stone attack during the contest and was assisted from the gym in the second quarter and brought to the hospital.

Fairfield held a slim 18-14 first quarter lead but increased its margin to 19 points, 47-28 at the end of the half. Fairfield led 63-45 at the three-quarter mark and held a 28-point winning margin at the end of the game.

John Mellinger was high point man for Fairfield with 34 markers. Jerry Strabley paced the losers with 22 points.

Fairfield now has a 11-1 win-loss record for the season. Its next game will be a home contest with Augusta Friday.

2 Cincinnati Schools Need Grid Coaches

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati and its cross-town rival, Xavier, both have out "help wanted" signs for a new head football coach.

Announcement last night that Sid Gillman was quitting at UC to become head coach of the Los Angeles Rams of the National pro league caught Cincinnati officials by complete surprise.

Only last week Gillman had announced publicly that he had removed himself from consideration for the Rams' job. He had gone ahead with plans for the annual UC football coaching clinic in April and last Saturday named Paul Bryant of Texas A & M and Murray Warmath of Minnesota to be instructors at the clinic.

Then came a trip to Chicago yesterday and the announcement out of Los Angeles that the Bearcats mentor had signed for the pro job. Gillman confirmed it here a short time later.

His resignation left both of Cincinnati's universities without a head grid coach. Xavier has been on the search for a coach since Ed Kluska resigned several weeks ago.

It was reported last week that Xavier had decided to hire George Dickson, an assistant at Notre Dame, but there has been no further word. Today the Cincinnati Enquirer said it had learned Dickson had asked his name be withdrawn. Dickson was not available for comment and Xavier officials would say nothing.

Gillman's decision to take the Los Angeles job came as a surprise that even M. Charles Hileham, UC athletic director, knew nothing of it until the announcement was made. Gillman talked with him later and said they would meet today.

Gillman said the decision to take the Los Angeles spot was "one of the toughest I've had to make" and he called the job "a real challenge."

Gillman's poorest season was his first here when the Bearcats won seven and lost four. His best was in 1951 when the record was 10-1.

His 1953 and 1954 teams ran up a string of 16 consecutive victories and the 1954 outfit had eight triumphs in a row before losing the final two games to Wichita and Miami.

The 1949 team played in the Glass Bowl at Toledo, beating Toledo, 33-13. The 1950 team dropped a 14-13 decision to Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso.

Blue Devils Roll Over Leetonia 94-43

Coach Jack Mills' Lisbon Blue Devils swamped the Leetonia Bears 94-43 last night in a contest played on the Lisbon floor.

For the Blue Devils it was their seventh season win against six losses. It was their second Tri-County win against three setbacks. The loss was the ninth of the season for Tom McCutcheon's Bears who have three wins.

The Blue Devils hit the nets for over 20 points in each quarter. They tallied 27 markers in the opening frame to take an early 27-10 lead. Lisbon led 48-24 at halftime and 70-32 going into the last quarter.

Chick Ashton was high point man for Lisbon with George Ramsey and Bobby Early six points behind with 11 points each. Connie Thorne had nine for the Blue Devils and four Lisbon players had eight. Reynolds, Hammett and Woolf.

John Mandish was high point man for Leetonia with 22 markers. Friday night Lisbon will go to Sebring and Leetonia to Louisville. Leetonia's Reserves won 45-42.

Kansas City Signs 4 Minor League Clubs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics have completed working agreements with four minor league clubs and signed a 10-man scouting staff.

Ray Kennedy, the A's personnel manager, said last night an agreement with one other baseball club may be forthcoming.

The American League team now has a full working agreement with Columbus, Ohio, of the International League.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

"Mr. Reynard" outfoxed the hunters last Sunday during the fox hunt sponsored by the Salem Hunt Club in Hanover Township. Four of the animals were routed but all escaped the hunters' guns.

One fox passed within 10 feet of a hunter on his stand. A little mound of dirt cut off the view and the hunter did not know a fox had passed until the sound came baying along.

The weather was cold with snow on the ground plus a biting wind but this did not stop 20 hardy hunters. Another chase will be held at a later date. The public is invited.

One rule the club has is that regardless of who bags the animal the feet are turned over to the dog owner who, in turn, can collect the $3 bounty which helps buy a few extra bones for old "Floppers." After all, it costs money to feed a hound.

COLUMBIANA County Commissioners appropriated $1,650 in 1954, which paid the bounty for 454 foxes in which $3 was paid for each set of four fox feet. So far the commissioners have appropriated enough money to take care of all claims. These men have acted in good faith.

I have been told that foxes killed in Pennsylvania by the hunters there, collect a bounty after the animal is turned in and his tongue is split. In turn the Pennsylvania resident turns the four feet over to a friend in Columbiana County who in turn collects the bounty for the four feet, and visa-versa.

Also, according to an out of county newspaper, an article appeared stating the Mahoning County Commissioners appropriated only $300 for fox bounty which was paid out on the first come first served basis and when the money was used up, that was it.

What is to prevent an unscrupulous person from collecting the bounty in Columbiana County on foxes killed in neighboring counties as well as in Pennsylvania.

If this kind of traffic is going on it should be stopped before our tab is shut off.

I am not against paying a bounty on foxes as it does give added momentum in a way to vermin control, if foxes are vermin and detrimental to rabbits, pheasants, etc. On the other hand does any state claim that the bounty system is the answer to vermin control? If it does then I would like to look at the facts and forget about the figures.

I HAVE COME in possession of an interesting little booklet put out by the Mullins Mfg. Corp., "Attracting Birds to Your Yard." There are excellent suggestions regarding the construction of various types of bird feeders.

The illustrations of the birds in colors are very real, and beautiful. One thing I do not like is the old starting list among the other glorified birds even if he has increased in numbers to the point of becoming a nuisance in some of our cities and operation "shotgun" became necessary to get rid of them. One little fellow, the English sparrow, does not rate a mention. I personally welcome him to help himself to my food I put out for other birds. He's no sissy and remains with us the year 'round.

DiMaggio May Reach Hall of Fame Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, long ago confirmed as one of the greatest New York Yankees, will find out today whether he has become a member of baseball's immortals in the Hall of Fame.

Today's count of votes by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Assn. will be the third try for entry by DiMaggio. The Yankee center fielder retired after the 1951 season.

He missed by 14 votes last year, after being named on 175 of the 252 ballots cast—just short of the three-fourths vote needed.

Last year Rabbit Maraville, Bill Terry and Bill Dickey were elected to take their place among the greats at the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine.

The writers are permitted to vote for 10 men, but the order in which the names appear on each ballot doesn't matter. The number of ballots vary from year to year with the changes in the seniority of the members.

In order to be eligible for selection a man must have been active in the last 25 years but have been out of baseball as player, manager, coach or umpire for at least five years.

Exceptions were granted to allow men receiving 100 or more votes in the 1953 elections to remain eligible. That stipulation covered DiMaggio, Dickey and Ted Lyons, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, with Dickey being elected last year, DiMaggio and Lyons remain the lone exceptions.

Boosters To Plan Basketball Banquet

The regular weekly meeting of the Salem Booster Club will be held Thursday night at 7:30 in the Memorial Building, President Alden Smith announced this morning.

Initial plans for the basketball banquet will be made and committees appointed.

Smith also announced that both individual and group shots of the Quakers can now be purchased at the Lease Drug Store. The sale of the pictures is a Booster Club project.

NCAA Committee On TV To Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The tight cloak of secrecy which has surrounded the meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. Television Committee was expected to be lifted today at a news conference.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said yesterday a committee chairman will be named and plans of the committee will be disclosed.

The new committee was selected to formulate a plan aimed to satisfy the television football interests of various college conferences. The Pacific Coast and Big Ten conferences were against the 1954 national controlled NCAA program of the game of the week.

Meanwhile, Harvey Chrouser, athletic director of Wheaton College, criticized the Big Ten and Pacific Coast stand for regional television.

Chrouser's remarks brought an immediate denial from Tug Wilson, Big Ten athletic commissioner, that the Big Ten has motives for financial gain in proposing regional television.

Chrouser said "the Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences' insistence on regional television of football games would kill football for American boys... and the future of the NCAA."

Wilson came back, saying: "We don't want to get into a war of words about football television but there have been so many false charges and so much loose talk that I want to make a few brief remarks."

"We did not solicit but anticipated legislative interest in a liberalized television program and we will resist legislative action which would force unrestricted television."

WANT AD DIRECTORY

Big O Seen Best-Balanced Cage Loop

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry Combes, University of Illinois basketball coach, says, "Either there isn't a great team in this conference or they're all good."

Combes was referring to what is becoming one of the tightest races in Big Ten basketball history.

No team has fewer than two losses and most haven't reached the halfway mark of 12 games. It is quite possible the champion will have four losses or maybe several teams will share the title with a record of five defeats.

Whatever the final standings, a sharp look in won and lost columns shows Big Ten teams don't stack up too well nationally even though they have a record of 49 victories and 25 defeats against nonconference teams.

That there is balance in the conference is indicated further by the records which show that the four top teams have nine of the non-league losses as against 11 by the bottom four teams.

Most of the teams beaten by the Big Ten are not ranked in this week's Associated Press poll. In fact, only three schools which have played Western Conference foes are among the top 20.

They are North Carolina State (3), Marquette (11) and Missouri (12). Against these three, the Big Ten has two victories and five losses.

North Carolina State beat Minnesota, currently tied for the conference lead; Marquette lost to Michigan State but defeated Michigan; and Missouri knocked off Indiana, Iowa and Wisconsin after losing to Illinois.

The team that has been the toughest for the Big Ten is Penn. The unranked Quakers have whipped Iowa, tied with Minnesota for the league lead, Purdue and Michigan State.

PGA Seniors Vote To Retain 54-Hole Event

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—PGA seniors were getting in practice rounds today for their national championship tournament after voting to keep it a 54-hole event in 1956.

Some members wanted to lengthen it to 72 holes, but most thought that too long for golfers over 50, as they must be to qualify as a senior player. Until last year it was only 36 holes.

At last night's business session Marty Crompton of Toledo, Ohio, was elected president, succeeding Hugh Bancroft of Tulsa, Okla.

At least three former U. S. Open champions are among 172 entered the tournament opening Friday. They are Gene Sarazen of Boonton, N. J., defending champion; Johnny Farrell of Springfield, N. J., and Billie Burke of Cleveland, Ohio.

Pennsylvania Moves To Free Grid TV

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—A resolution introduced in the Pennsylvania legislature yesterday would open Pennsylvania college football to television.

The resolution asked that all state aided colleges and universities be prevented from entering agreements under which the number of televised athletic contests is restricted.

Regulations Seek To Prevent Second Stock Market Crash

(Third of a Series)

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market crash of 1929 was an economic Pearl Harbor.

It killed some people, the men who committed suicide, or died of heart attacks beside the tickers. It struck down the hopes of many others. And ultimately, through the great depression that swiftly followed, it hit the life of every American.

Nobody ever will be able to wholly assess the effects of those tragic years. How much did they set back the economic growth of America? How deep a sense of insecurity did they leave?

Harry D. Comer, partner-analyst in a major New York brokers firm, recently wrote:

"1954 may well be considered by future generations as a turning point in our history . . . Certainly, it will long be remembered as the year when America conquered the depression phobia."

Long books have analyzed the 1929 catastrophe. They show speculation, rigging and other sharp practices. Such as the fever of the times that people bought a stock without knowing what that company produced—or if it produced anything.

Things are different today because of regulations that did not exist then.

Did the stock market crash cause the great depression of the 1930s?

Comer prefers to say it "triggered" the slump. Other factors existed. It dramatized and aggravated them.

Moreover, it set in motion a chain reaction of contractions.

People cut back on buying and spending. They were scared. Sales dropped. Production slowed. Unemployment set in. The banks were scared too. Some had failed. They called in notes. Everybody lost confidence.

And confidence is like the film of oil that supports tons of machinery. To a considerable degree, the whole, towering American economy rides on it.

Today, the economy is expanding rapidly. The population is rising. More people need more, want more, produce more, earn more, save more.

And today, the stock market is near peak points in simple statistical comparison with 1929 figures. Some observers believe it is too high. Others say it bears little resemblance to the situation of that day.

They point out the differences between the periods. In 1929 the population was 122 million, of which 48 million were employed. In 1954 the population had grown to 163 million, of which 62 million were employed.

The difference in billions of dollars was:

	1929	1954
Personal income	88	286.2
Savings	4	19.6
Gross product	104	350
Listed stock value	85	169
Stock exchange credit	8.5	1.9
X-Estimated total value of all goods and services produced.
The stock exchange credit figures show the money borrowed from vaults and other sources as reported by the New York Stock Exchange. Thus, in 1929, the credit in the market was equal to about 10 per cent of the total value of all the stocks. Today, it works out to about 1.134 per cent.

Moreover, the dollar in 1929 was probably worth double what it is today. Adjust today's stock prices and credit total to that fact, the analysts say, and today's market is nowhere near the 1929 levels.

They say, also, that the market now is an "investor's market," not speculative, backed by billions of dollars of holdings bought by huge trusts, pension funds and insurance companies not likely to unload giant blocks of stock on the market.

Still the haunting fear of 1929 persists. Dr. John K. Galbraith, Harvard economics professor, recently wrote:

"The question inevitably arises whether a similar cycle of speculation and collapse could again occur. The simple answer is 'Of course.'"

But would a crushing depression follow again?

Legislation exists today, the so-called "built-in controls," designed to check any wild surges of speculation, and to operate against the forces that usually break loose in a chain-reaction slump.

It may be that the United States already has halted two potential depressions since the end of World War II. Your children may never see another economic disaster on the size and scale that you witnessed.

Tomorrow: How much safer are you today?

Unwanted $250,000

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you think it would help you to relax if you had a chance to earn $250,000 this year above your regular income—and you turned it down?

Well, Perry Como turns down that kind of extra money every year. It is one of the ways he avoids tension.

"Money is important only to a point," he said somberly. "Then you have to work for other things."

Perry gave up a $125 a week income as a barber shop proprietor for a $28 a week job with a band because he loved to sing. Today his vocal chords bring him some $90,000 a year. He makes this sum from his CBS TV and radio shows and his recordings.

He takes eight weeks off each year. By working four of those weeks in top drawing movie houses in New York and Chicago he could pick up a guaranteed $250,000 more. Each year Como rejects the offer.

"You can only wear one suit at a time," he says.

Millions of Americans envy his talent or income less than they do his air of utter relaxation. But behind his easy going manner lies an aptitude for hard work.

"We do a lot of rehearsing," he remarked. "When you know where you're going and why, you can afford to feel relaxed."

Como is both one of the simplest and most complex figures in show business. He has a strong religious nature and his friends say he attends church almost daily. He draws a pretty rigid line between his public life and his home life.

His wife, Roselle, and his three children have never become watch-fobs to his success.

"There's nothing wrong with show business," he said. "but I want to keep my kid normal kids. I don't want to subject them to a lot of commotion. I want to keep them apart from it. They've got their school work to do. That's the most important thing for them right now."

He and his wife share an old-fashioned theory on how to raise children:

"Just love them every day, and when they need a good whacking give it to them. But they don't need it very often. They're good kids. Usually just telling them what you expect of them is enough. Sometimes I worry for fear they don't cause enough trouble. I don't want them to become regimented."

Perry and his wife take a two-week vacation each year apart from their children. The other six weeks the family spend together.

"Some times I still give the kids a haircut," he said. "But not very often. They're not very good tippers."

In the last 10 years Como has turned out eight records that sold more than a million apiece, a mark exceeded only by Bing Crosby, who has been in the big time twice as long.

Because of his solid success and his happy home life Perry is something of an idol to young singers who find themselves popular overnight. They bring their personal problems to him.

"But what can I do for them except maybe give them a haircut or buy them a cup of coffee," Como said. "You can't solve another person's problems for him. He has to work them out for himself."

"You can't blame a kid too much at 25 or 26 if he wakes up one morning and suddenly finds the world at his feet—and flips his wig. Unless he has his wits about him, he has a hard time to keep from getting lost the first week they hand him a $5,000 paycheck."

"A boy should have learned the value of a buck the hard way before he gets that kind of money."

The reason the young ones come to Perry for advice is he has never let money confuse him. He never got lost.

"I was lucky," he said. "I had a good wife to keep me stable. If a man doesn't have that, success doesn't mean a thing."

Rebels Surrender To Nicaragua

Threat Of Bloodshed Between Nations Ends

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The threat of bloodshed between neighboring Costa Rica and Nicaragua subsided today after 300 Costa Rican rebels surrendered to internment in Nicaragua. An Inter-American Peace Commission postponed a planned Washington trip to finish its conciliation job.

The retreat of the insurgent remnants across the Nicaraguan frontier apparently marked the definite end of the two-week-old Costa Rican evolution. It came after the San Jose government ordered its troops into the now abolished neutral zone along the border with Nicaragua to hunt rebel holdouts.

Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza said earlier any insurgents crossing the border would be jailed in Managua. Their internment made unnecessary any advance by Costa Rican troops to the frontier, risking a clash with Nicaraguan border guards.

Jose Mora of Uruguay, president of the Council of the Organization of American States, said in Washington that the rebels' retreat "is good news since it means the end of a threat" of fighting between Costa Rican and Nicaraguan forces.

But in Managua, Teodoro Picado Sr., exiled ex-President of Costa Rica, predicted "there will be many more revolutions" if necessary to oust the government of President Jose Figueres. Picado said his son Teodoro Jr., West Point-trained field commander of the rebel force, "won't give up."

The younger Picado's whereabouts were not known in San Jose.

The internment of insurgents crossing the border was announced by Nicaraguan foreign minister Oscar Sevilla Sacasa in a telephone call here to Luis Quintanilla of Mexico, chairman of the peace commission sent by the OAS.

Quintanilla said the sudden ending of the rebel threat made unnecessary the commission's planned flight yesterday to Washington. The group had scheduled the trip to present to the OAS Council a request from Figueres for more observers along the border.

Major fighting in the rebellion stopped last Friday but the Costa Rican government said more than 200 rebels were holed up in the buffer zone set up at the request of the OAS commission to keep Costa Rican troops chasing the rebels from getting within shooting distance of the Nicaraguan border.

Figueres had accused Somoza of aiding the rebellion, a charge the Nicaraguan chief executive denied.

Announcing his agreement Monday to end the neutral zone arrangement, Somoza warned that he was mobilizing about 50 troops along the border to protect his country and that the shedding of "any drop of Nicaraguans' blood will mean war."

Coldest Weather Of Winter Chills U. S.

By The Associated Press

The winter season's coldest weather chilled broad areas of the country today as a January cold wave showed no immediate sign of a breakup.

The Midwest got the stiffest sweep of the arctic air which moved out of central Canada and sent temperatures tumbling to zero and below again this morning.

The cold front extended as far south as central Florida and the eastern Gulf region early today with temperatures in the 30s.

Light snow or flurries fell over much of the northern area from the northern Rockies to western New York state. More snow was in prospect for most of the north central region. The snow in the East extended over eastern Ohio, northern West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and western New York.

Babies Born On Jan. 10 Cost $30,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—Babies born to residents of Ohio Jan. 10 cost Standard Oil Co. of Ohio $30,000, the company reports. Sohio, celebrating its 85th birthday, offered a share of company stock or its cash equivalent to parents of every baby born to Ohioans on that day. Parents had until yesterday to apply, and the company said there were 675 applications, including some Ohioans in overseas military service.
